

Sioux Chief Hosts Tour Group from Hajoca

KANSAS CITY, MO, February, 2018 -- Sioux Chief Manufacturing recently hosted a group of Hajoca "Profit Center" managers from the North and South Carolina areas at their new plant and headquarters in Kansas City, MO. The group also included Shannon Mercil, Manager of Vendor Relations for Hajoca.

The visitors were accompanied by Representatives from Carolina Sales Associates and were met by the Sioux Chief team for a tour of the manufacturing plant, distribution/warehouse, and a round-table discussion.

The evening before the tour, members of the Sioux Chief team accompanied the visitors and representatives from Carolina Sales Associates to dinner in historic downtown Kansas City. The next morning, the group visited Sioux Chief's copper and extrusion departments at the plant in Peculiar, then spent the rest of the day at the new Kansas City facility, touring the manufacturing plant and participating in a round-table discussion.

During the tour, some guests were able to see new opportunities right away. "The tour was very informative and resulted in some immediate business for an ongoing project in our area," said Andy Weymouth from Hendersonville, NC. "I highly recommend the time away from the office as well, the hospitality was quite impressive."

Another visitor, Robert Morris from Columbia, SC, was impressed by the new facility and processes that were in place. "After being in this industry for over 30 years, it's encouraging to see a manufacturer that is determined to be an industry leader by doing things the right way," Morris said. "I look forward to seeing what new heights Sioux Chief can achieve with their new facility."
